

MedBiquitous Process and Group Communications

Prepared for the MedBiquitous Educational Trajectory Working Group

August 10, 2009

Group Communications

- Teleconferences (twice per month)
- Listserv
- Wiki

Listserv

- medbiqueducationaltrajectory@lists.ctsnet.org
 - Distribute meeting agendas and files
 - Discussion
 - Replies go to the group

You should have received an email from the list with call-in information for this teleconference.

Wiki

- <http://groups.medbiq.org/medbiq/display/ET/Home>
 - Post agendas with links to relevant documents
 - Share files and ideas
 - Collaborative authoring

You should have received login information from Jody Poet.

Log In

Dashboard > Educational Trajectory Working Group > Home

Search

Educational Trajectory Working Group

Home

Log In

View

Info

Browse Space

Added by Valerie Smothers, last edited by Valerie Smothers on Jul 22, 2009 (view change)

Labels: (None)

The mission of the MedBiquitous Educational Trajectory Working Group is to develop an XML standard and accompanying guidelines to support the tracking, planning, and audit of learners' educational trajectory across medical schools and national organizations. Educational trajectory is the path of an individual learner through one or more programs of study and includes a sequence of formal curricular activities and events, informal professional development activities and events, and breaks in matriculation. Educational trajectory is likely to be different for every learner.

Working group members can access the discussion forum for the working group or send email to the group at medbiqueducationaltrajectory@lists.ctsnet.org.

For more information, see the charter.

Children Hide Children | View in Hierarchy

- Meetings
- Specifications and Schemas

Links

Added by Valerie Smothers, last edited by Valerie Smothers on Jul 22, 2009 (view change)

Labels: (None) EDIT

The mission of the MedBiquitous Educational Trajectory Working Group is to develop an XML standard and accompanying guidelines to support the tracking, planning, and audit of learners' educational trajectory across medical schools and national organizations. Educational trajectory is the path of an individual learner through one or more programs of study and includes a sequence of formal curricular activities and events, informal professional development activities and events, and breaks in matriculation. Educational trajectory is likely to be different for every learner.

Working group members can access the discussion forum for the working group or send email to the group at medbiqueducationaltrajectory@lists.ctsnet.org.

For more information, see the charter.

Children Hide Children | View in Hierarchy | Add Child Page

- eFolio Collaborative Documents
- Meetings
- Specifications and Schemas
- Working Group Members

Some links restricted to group

Type Title

Add Page

New Page

Location: Educational Trajectory Working Group > Home EDIT

Select a page template to start from.

Rich Text

Wiki Markup

Preview

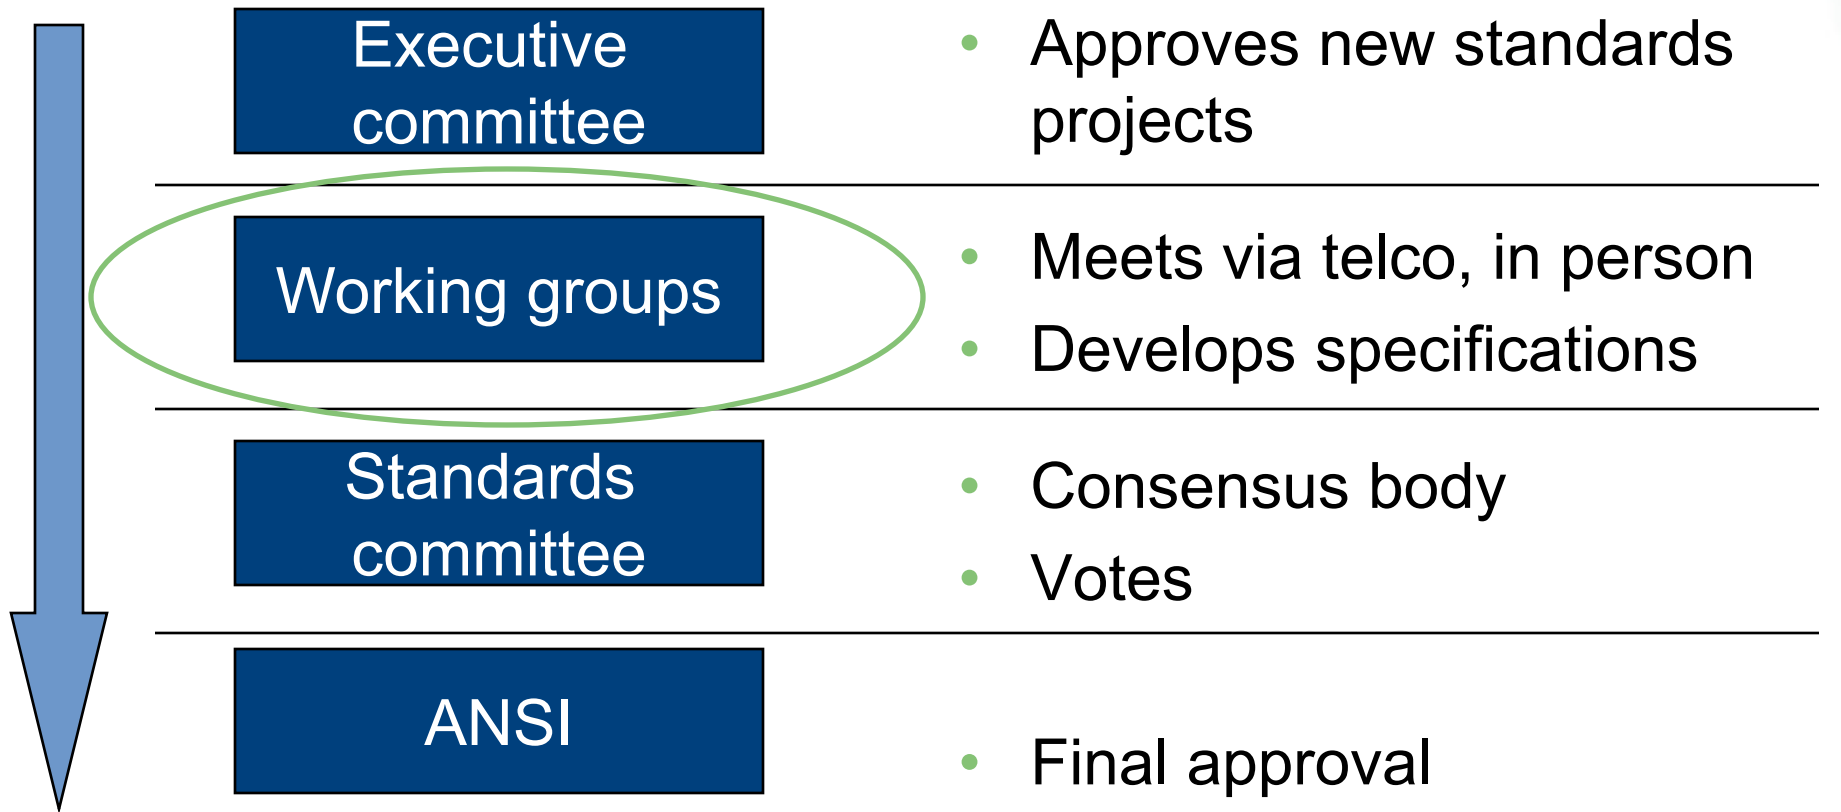

Save

Cancel

Type Text Here

MedBiquitous Process

Accelerated Standards Development Process

- More frequent teleconferences than other groups
- Implementation pilot scheduled for January
- Funded by AAMC, FSMB, and NBME